

The background of the brochure is a photograph of a large industrial facility, likely a refinery or chemical plant, featuring numerous tall distillation columns, storage tanks, and complex piping. Two prominent smokestacks with red and white horizontal stripes are visible on the right side. The facility is set against a backdrop of rolling hills or mountains under a dramatic sky with soft, colorful clouds from a sunset or sunrise. The image is framed by a large, curved orange graphic element that sweeps across the top and bottom right corners.
